

Integration sensitivity | what the correction removed

A Variance by factor

B Proportion removed by correction

A batch correction should remove replicate variance (technical), not condition variance (biological). If condition falls further than replicate, the correction is removing the signal.